

ON
SOME FURTHER IMPROVEMENTS
IN LITHOGRAPHIC PRINTING.

With Mr. Hullmandel's compliments.

BRITISH LIBRARY LONDON

81

BRITISH LIBRARY LONDON

26

Sir

I beg leave to request your acceptance of some Specimens which I flatter myself will meet with your approbation, for their clearness and sharpness have hitherto been unequalled in Lithography.

This style is deserving the attention of Publishers, Architects, Surveyors &c, as the moderate prices at which drawings can be executed in this manner, as well as the very great number of good impressions which can be obtained from each plate, are not the least striking features of this branch of Lithography.

I remain, Sir,

49, Gt. Marlborough St.

Your obed^t, Serv^t

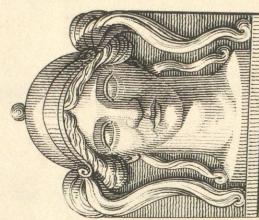

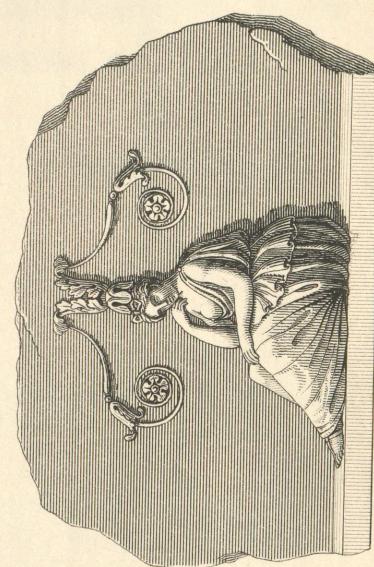

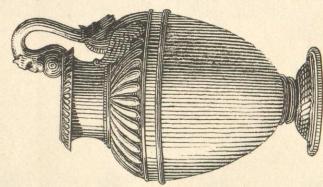

April 1829.

C. H. Willmott

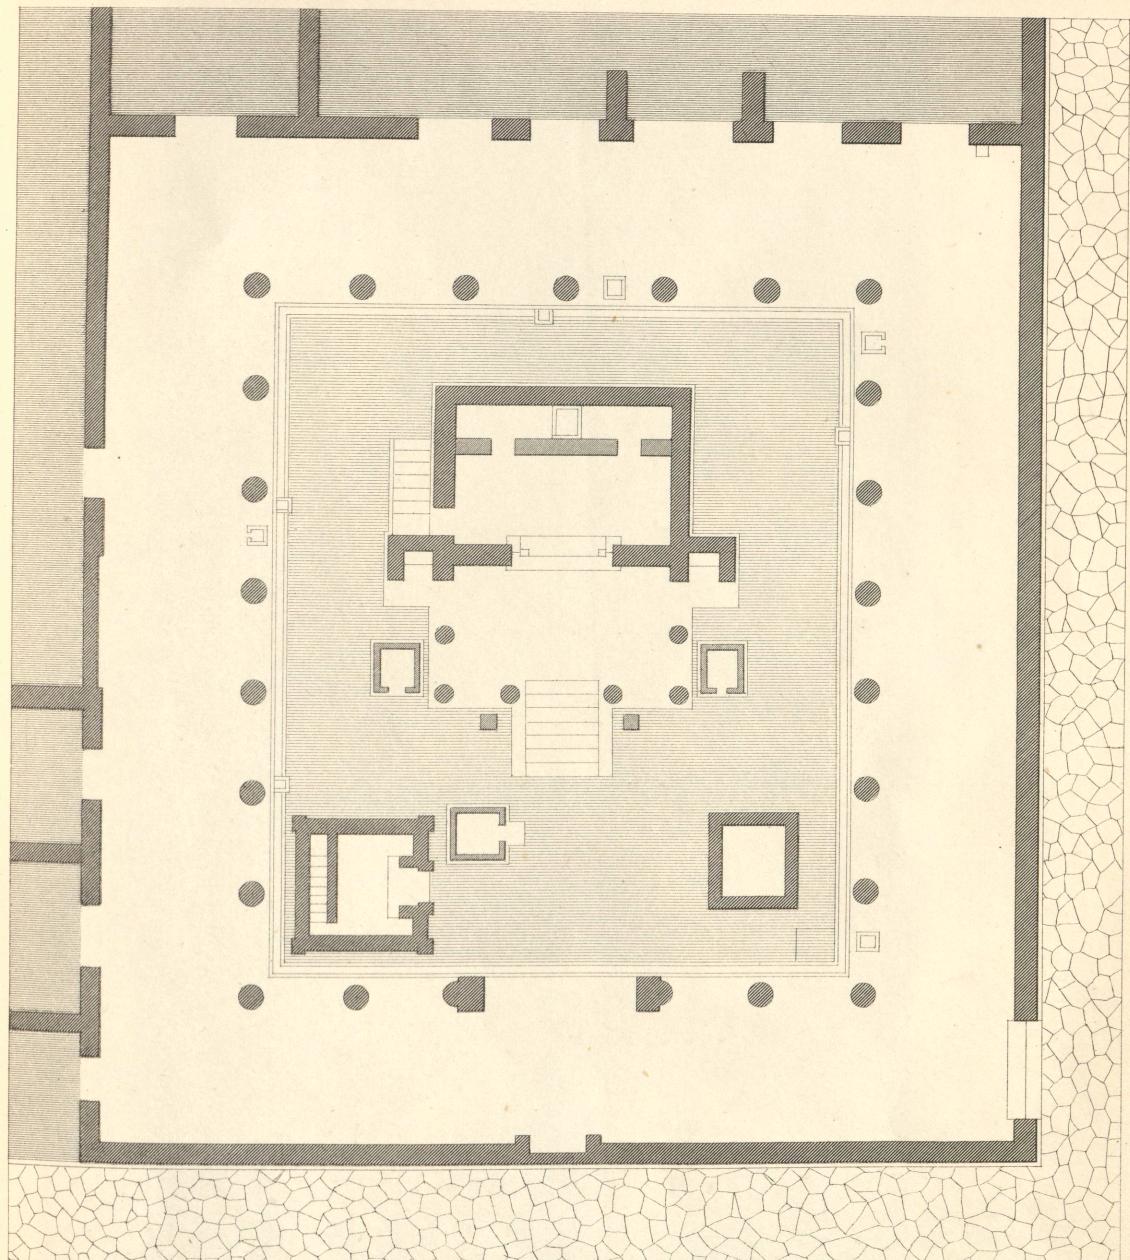

300 Impressions of each drawing have been taken off and the Stones are placed in my Office for inspection, when it will be seen that the Plates are as perfect as when first drawn.

20. b. 70.

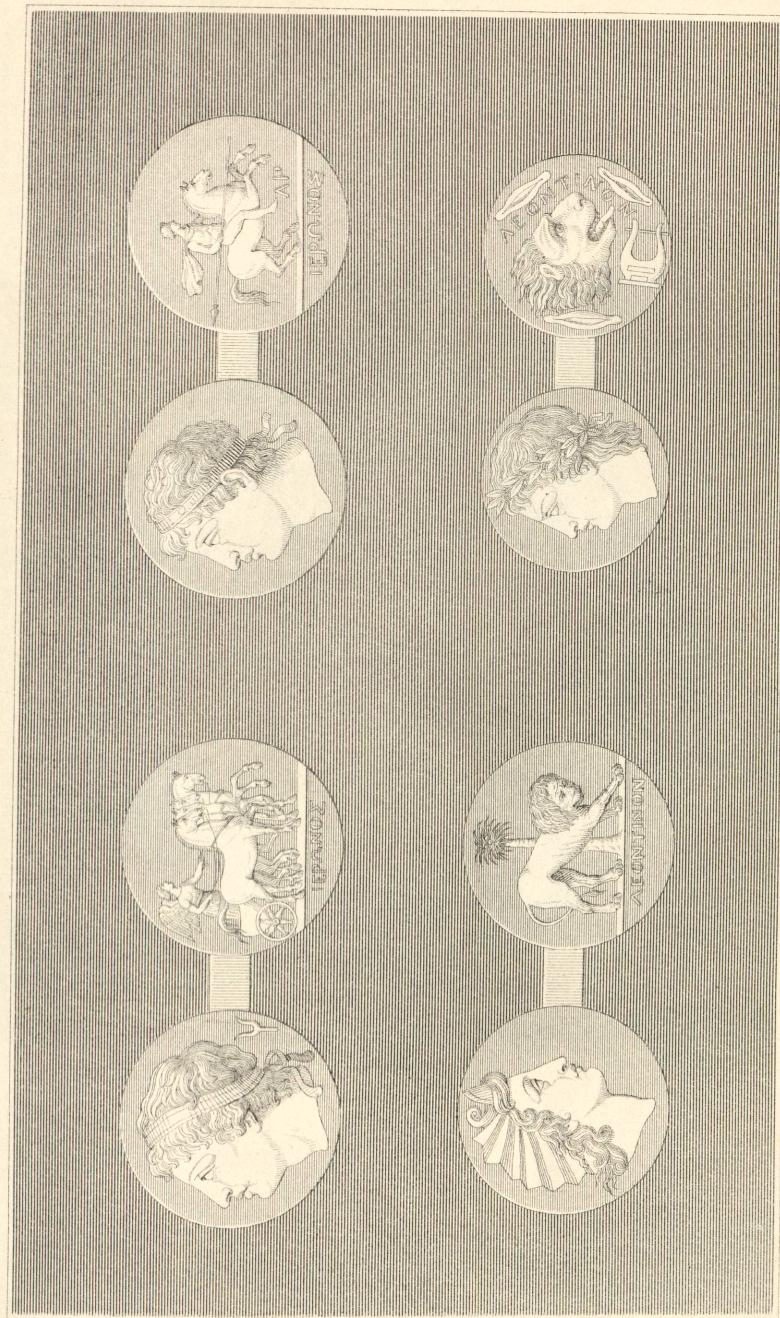

C. Hullmandel's Lithography.

C. Hulmandel's Lithography

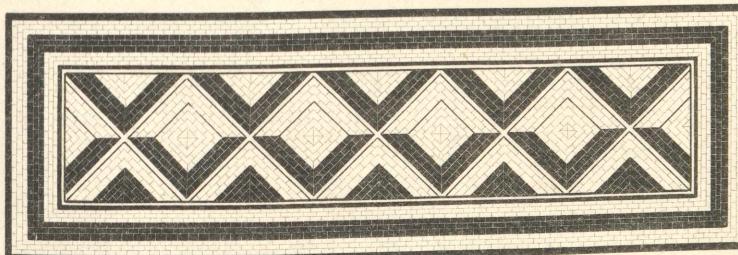

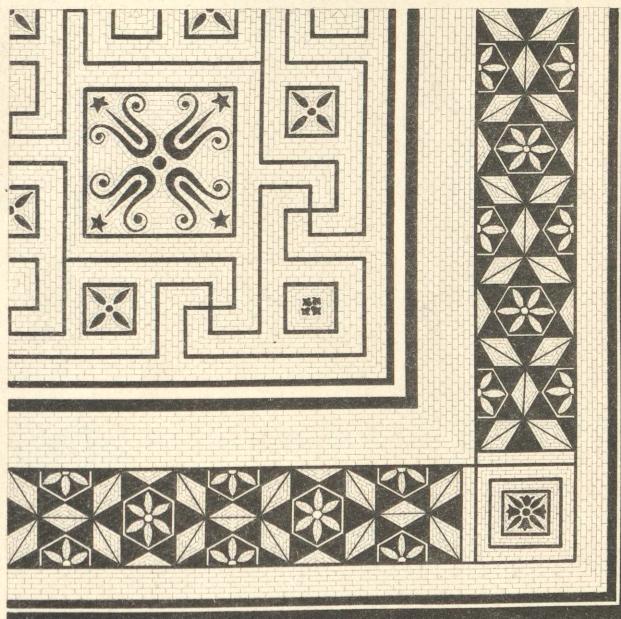

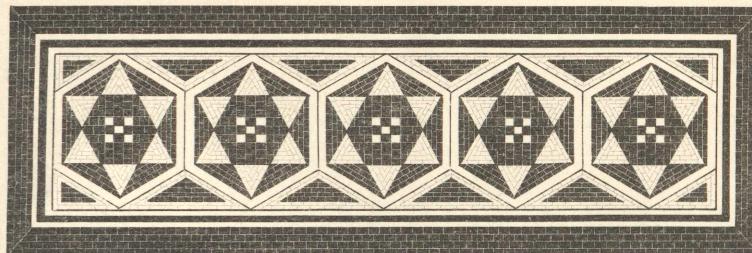

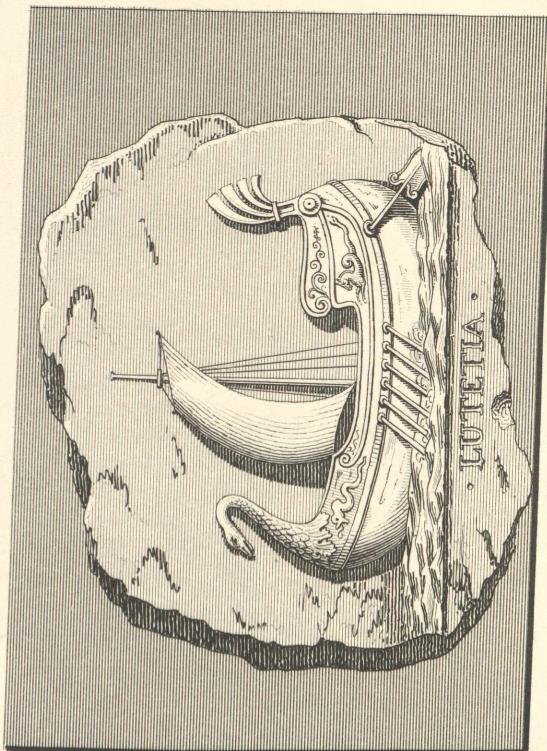

C. H. H. Lithography.

FROM A GREEK VASE.

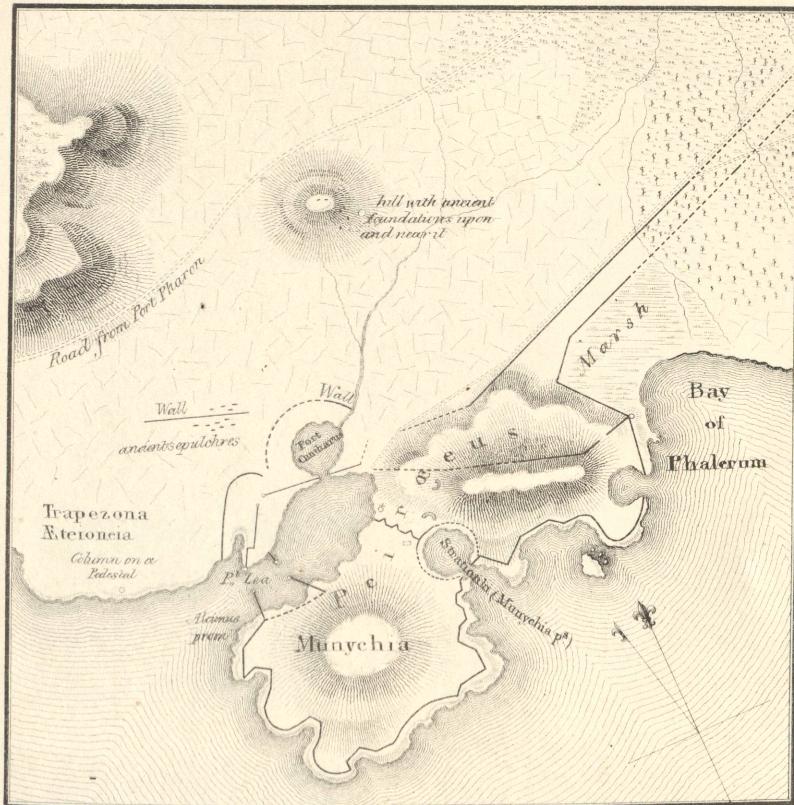

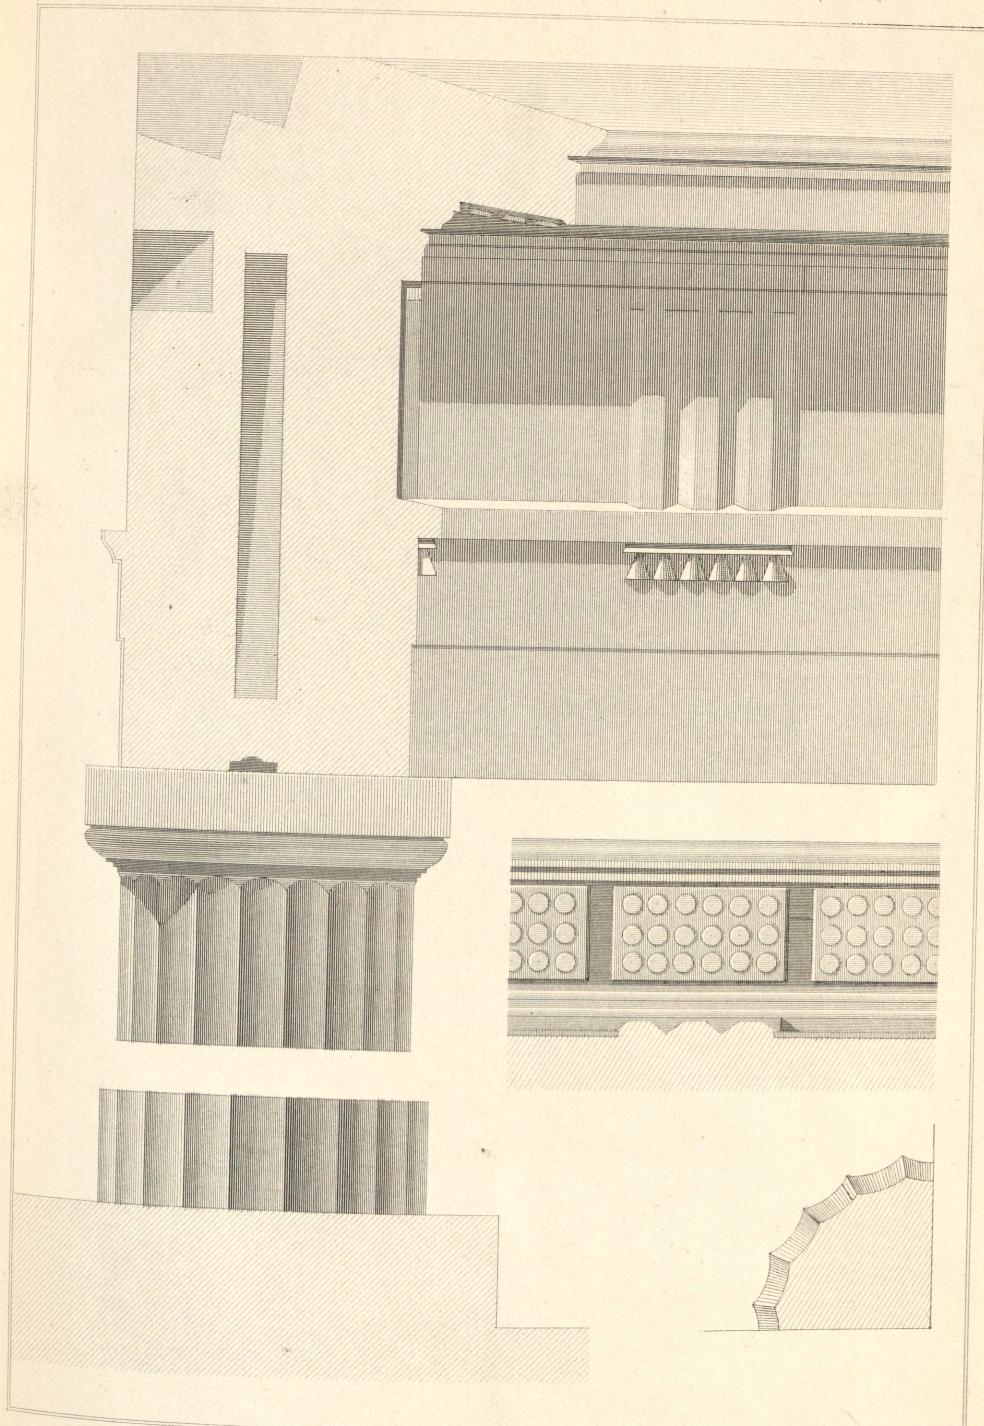

C. Hullmandel's lithography

C. Hullmandel's lithography

C. Hullmandel's Lithography

